Space age nursery wins high marks

● THE shape of play things to come, Maxilla Nursery Centre, Ladbroke Grove, North Kensington.

IS THIS the city of the future? No, it's a nursery centre for future citizens which has won praise in a top school design contest. Maxilla Nursery Centre, Maxilla Walk, Ladbroke Grove, was praised in the Education School Design Awards. Designed by the Greater London Council, the centre has a day nursery, a parents centre and a nursery school. The judges, including a former education director and architecture professor, said: "The parents' centre, which is the core of the complex, fulfills an important social function in the area. "The centre clearly provides a happy and secure environment for children".
